

Providing comfort, care, and meaning at the end of life

Rainbow Hospice Care is a community based non-profit hospice organization that helps terminally ill patients and their loved ones maintain quality of life even at the end of life—offering compassionate, expert care that focuses on comfort, dignity, and peace.

For nearly 20 years, the skilled professionals and volunteers at Rainbow Hospice Care have provided a full spectrum of physical, spiritual and emotional end-of-life care to persons living in Jefferson County, Wisconsin, as well as surrounding communities located in Dane, Dodge, Rock, Walworth and Waukesha counties.

If you or a loved one resides in this area, Rainbow Hospice Care is your hospice. We are accessible to all terminally ill patients and their families living here—regardless of age, race, religion or gender, type of illness, insurance coverage or economic status. We treat all of our patients and their families with the same respect, kindness and concern—while also addressing the unique needs and wishes of each individual.

Whatever your situation, we encourage you learn more about the high-quality end-of-life care resources available to you now. Even if you don't have an immediate need, we can help you feel more comfortable by increasing your awareness and understanding so that you can make well informed choices when the time comes.
